About me: I work as practical nurse in the National Institute of Infectious Diseases "Lazzaro Spallanzani" in Rome since 2006 and my job is focused on taking care of patients suffer from Tb, Hiv/Aids, endocarditis, osteomyelitis and enterocolitis Clostridium difficile and on putting in place all the precautions related to the infection and prevention control. In addition, since 2011, I started to collaborate with international organization "Medicins sans frontieres" and up to now I did seven missions, taking different roles (nurse team supervisor, nursing activity manager and medical team leader). Especially as medical team leader my main responsibilities were: ■ Defines, implements and monitors medical activities according to standards and protocol ■ to ensure a proper monitoring of the program ■ Participate in the development of the project policy, annual plan, project proposal, budget review and project reports to donors ■ Participate in exploratory missions / situation assessments and define medical operational priorities when needed. ■ Coordinate, supervise, coach and support medical team (doctors, nurses and health promoters) ■ Implement the health policy for international and national staff, providing all prophylactic and preventive necessary measures, structures and emergency plans, managing any medical evacuation in order to ensure staff health. I have experience in Ebola context (4 missions) and for this reason I would like to focus my personal career in increasing competences in Infection and Prevention Control. In March 2019 I started a course in "Fundamentals in Infection prevention and control" organized by ICAN (Infection control africa network) that took place in Cape Town (South Africa); it ended in November 2019. I taught, as professor, transcultural nursing in the Public University "La Sapienza" and it was a wonderful experience sharing knowledge and competences with students. In May 2020 I gave a lecture (on line) on "Ten priorities in emergency and outbreak management" in a "Specialization Course on Global Health" in the Medicine Faculty of Brescia University.
